

I am absolutely appalled at the idea that I may no longer be able to continue recording television content for my own personal use. What the Hollywood crowd is trying to do is nothing more than excessive greed beyond belief.